

Water Transfer Out

- WRSE: “Of all the regions, the Southeast faces the greatest pressures on public water supplies”. For years Thames Water have told us that the Thames Valley is the most stressed part of the most stressed region.
- By building the large schemes first, Thames Water generates a large surplus from 2040 that lasts for many years.
- They are going to sell 80 million litres of water a day to Southern Water (A third to a half of an Abingdon reservoir)
- Thames Water aim to destroy a large area in Oxfordshire so that they can sell water out of the region.
- Our lives will be turned upside down for 10 years so that Thames Water can make more money. Does this sound remotely fair?